In discussions with the Business Response Team (BRT) we are pleased to report some additional progress.

The 30 limit relates to the number of participants on the “field of play” (i.e., the ice surface) engaged in game play will now exclude:

- on-ice officials who maintain physical distancing and use PPE, avoid contact with the players and equipment;
- game participants and coaches on the benches/in the players box who are part of the maximum 50 person mini-league: and,
- other off-field/off-ice coaches, officials and volunteers, who use PPE and avoid contact with the players and equipment.

Please continue to visit our Covid-19 Resource hub that will hold all information and tools related to returning to ringette <http://www.ringettesask.com/covid-19-resource-hub/>.

We are committed to you and your safety.

Sincerely,
